

How to Produce a Quality Research Poster

Monday, October 17, 2016

12:45 – 1:45 p.m.

in RE 102

Pizza and light refreshments will be served
RSVP by Wed. 10/12: staylo10@iit.edu

Open to all Illinois Tech students

You work hard on your research.
Get noticed with a great research poster!

Learn how to prepare a high-quality poster to present your work at campus research fairs, academic conferences, and in your classes.

This event will provide straightforward descriptions of how to use existing poster templates, what content to include, and other suggestions.

Plus, all materials will be accessible online for future reference.

Hosted by:

Matthew Shapiro

Associate Professor of Political Science

Hao Huang

Assistant Professor of Social Sciences

For more information about this event, or if you have specific questions, please contact Prof. Shapiro at shapiro@iit.edu or Prof. Huang at hhuang48@iit.edu.

Lewis College
of Human Sciences

ILLINOIS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Department of Social Sciences