

NEW COURSE

Fall 2012

When: Fridays from 10AM-12:40 PM

Where: Main Campus or Via Internet

Research Project: Design, Delivery, and Dissemination FST/FPE 402/502

This course is an introduction to designing, conducting, and reporting on scientific research. Topics will include defining a problem and creating a research proposal, experimental design, data collection and analysis, and a written and oral presentation of results.

Planning a research project?
Writing your thesis or project report?
Presenting your findings to a professional organization?

Doing all three?

This brand new course is for you!

If you are currently involved in research, or plan to be, you can't afford to miss this class.

REGISTER TODAY!

For more information, please contact
Renee McBrien, 708.563.8271 or mcbrien@iit.edu